

S-3 Group Fellowship Program

The S-3 Group Fellowship is a four-month opportunity to learn through experience, observation, and immersion.

As an S-3 Fellow you will dive right into the hot policy debates, analyze the latest political developments, and work alongside seasoned professionals with years of experience from Capitol Hill, the campaign trail, and consulting. You will join S-3 Group client teams and play critical roles helping our clients succeed.

Fellow responsibilities include research, analysis, writing, and content creation. You will be working in a fast-paced environment on a variety of issues across an array of industries. Throughout the course of the program, you may be attending congressional hearings, preparing materials for media or policymakers, conducting research for team members and clients, assisting with events across the city, writing media releases and digital content and participating in team meetings.

Fellows are paid an hourly wage and expected to work from our DC office on Capitol Hill Monday – Friday for approximately eight hours per day for a period of four months. Flexible hours can be arranged for part-time students.

Qualifications

We are looking for sharp-minded undergraduate seniors, graduate students, or recent graduates with a degree or practical experience in political science, communications, public relations or public affairs who will bring dedication, and fresh, creative ideas to our team.

About S-3

S-3 is a boutique consultancy that brings together the best in government and public relations to develop and execute comprehensive and integrated strategies that help our clients win in Congress, regulatory agencies, and the court of public opinion. Recognizing the changing government relations and communications landscape and playbook, the firm offers cutting edge strategies that leverage our extensive network of contacts, creative storytelling abilities, and innovative use of technology. Working as an integrated team, we stay ahead of the game in a quickly moving environment to earn victories for clients across a broad spectrum of industries. We are an agile boutique organization that values one another and relies on every member of the firm to contribute to the firm's success. Together we support our clients as trusted advisors and key collaborators to help them win in the fast-paced world of policy and politics.

How to Apply

Interested candidates may contact us at careers@s-3group.com. Please write Fellowship in the subject line. In your email, please tell us a little about yourself, why you think you'd be a good Fellow at S-3 and include your resume.